

My Stewardship Covenant

To be a child of God is to be a steward of God accountable to Him as our Master and responsible for His property and all that He gives us.

I will do my best to receive with joyful thanksgiving the many gifts that God showers upon me – my time, my talent, my treasure, my friendships, our natural resources, and the beauty around me.

I will do my best to take good care of what I have received from God; and to manage these gifts wisely for my own good and the good of others.

I will do my best to show my gratitude for all that I have received, and to share my gifts with others. My gifts that I receive, manage, and share include my time, my abilities, and my financial resources.
